2.2. Distance (categorization by distance) / altimetry (cumulative positive and negative gains) / difficulty categorization / maximum times

Note: The gpx files provided by the organization may have disparate distance and altitude gain values, depending on the equipment / software and user-operated adjustments.

2.3. Map / altimetry profile / course description

- ULTRA MADEIRA's courses are mostly dirt roads, tracks, levadas (irrigation channels), tunnels and small stretches of paved roads. The routes use public roads whether on or off road, cross sites and towns and use service accesses that pass through private properties. The courses will therefore not be open exclusively to the races and in this sense participants must take into account the fact that there are vehicles, people and possibly animals moving in both directions on the race courses.

- Race tracks cross roads and often cross them perpendicularly, which should be given the utmost attention by participants.

- As there will be no road traffic cut, participants must comply with traffic rules on public cities and roads, as well as respect agricultural areas and private property, otherwise they will have to assume potential damages and compensations resulting from their non-compliance.
- The organization will make available the GPS tracks of the race courses. However, the indications of the elements affecting the organization and the signs placed on the terrain will always prevail.

2.4. Limit time

- ULTRA MADEIRA is an event that integrates 5 single stage races, with time limit of execution.
- Time barriers are calculated to allow participants to reach the finish line within the imposed time limit, taking into account possible stops (rest, fueling, etc.).
- To be allowed to continue in the race, participants must arrive and leave the checkpoint before it's closing time, otherwise they will be prevented from proceeding and will be disqualified.
- The Organization does not guarantee assistance beyond established checkpoint times and race completion times.
- Any participant excluded from the race and wishing to continue may do so only by delivering a part of the bib number, detachable for that purpose, continuing under his own responsibility and in complete autonomy.
- For reasons of force majeure (weather and / or safety), the organization reserves the right to change time barriers.
- The organization will disclose on the event website, a pass table and time barriers for all events.

5. Timing control / Checkpoints

5.1. Timing control Methodology

- The organization will use an electronic timing system and, if necessary, manual control of the passage record.
- The participants' bib number includes a chip that the organization will deliver when collecting the race material, which use is mandatory.
- In the departure zone the clock will start counting at the set time, with or without the presence of the participants. Participants who are not present within 15 minutes of departure or who present themselves beyond this period will be prevented from leaving and as such will not be classified.

5.2. Checkpoints

- Checkpoints are mandatory crossing points and are located at places outlined by the organization. In each of these controls will be a person in charge of the organization. A table of passages, with different information, will be previously made known to the participants.
- Failure to control one or more checkpoints will lead to disqualification of the participant.
- During the race there may be "surprise checks" to ensure full compliance with the course. It's position will obviously not be communicated by the organization.
- Abandonments must be done solely at checkpoints. In the event of an accident or injury that hinders progression, the participant must activate the rescue operation by contacting the organization. The organization's emergency contact number will be printed on the participant's bib number and must also be recorded in advance on the participant's mobile phone.

It is critical that participants help anyone in distress, alert the nearest checkpoint and / or contact the organization. Due to problems associated with the relief and the difficulty of access to certain places of the race, it may be necessary to wait for assistance longer than usual in places with good access. Therefore, the primary safety of athletes basically depends on the quality of the materials / equipment they carry in the race.

- Medical and / or first aid services will be provided at designated checkpoints and at the finish line.
- Participants must abide by the decisions of qualified medical personnel who are entitled, within the scope of their duties, to: Stop, hospitalize and evacuate unhealthy participants to continue the race (exceptional rescue or evacuation expenses, in addition to the insurance coverage provided by the organization, will be borne by the victim).
- The organization reserves the right to change at any time the course and position of the checkpoints without prior notice. There will be no refund.

5.3. Checkpoint Locations

- Checkpoints will provide participants with food and drink to be consumed on site (use of personal cup is required). Although other beverages are available on site, only water will be provided to fill participants' bags and other containers.
- There will be two types of fuelling stations: one for liquids only and some for solids and liquids, which will vary according to your location.

5.4. Cancellation by force majeure

Before the race:

- In cases of force majeure (red or orange alert), natural disasters (earthquakes, storms) or major political events (revolution, war, terrorist attacks), or pandemics, that force the organization to cancel the event, 25% of the registration fee will be refunded, discounted bank charges.

On the day and during the race:

- In case of severe weather conditions the race may be delayed by a maximum of two hours, after which time the race is canceled. In the meantime, in case of bad weather and for safety reasons, the organization reserves the right to modify the time barriers and, or to suspend, reduce, neutralize or stop the race. In this case, when a participant arrives at a control / refueling post, he / she must follow the instructions given by the members of the organization. There will be no refund.

6. Mandatory material / Material Checks

- During the competition, all participants must be accompanied by all the compulsory material. At any time during the race, the directors or chiefs of control may verify it. The participant will have to accept these checks peacefully, without contesting, otherwise he will be excluded from the race, according to the list of penalties in Article 7.

- The first 3 (three) participants of the general classification, male and female, of all events, will be compulsorily inspected after the completion of their races.
